DIGITAL RADIO IN CZECH RADIO PILSEN

7. May 2016, 10:00 and 14:00

Czech Radio Pilsen, nám. Míru 10

301 00, Pilsen

Czech Republic

Czech Radio will be launched today in Pilsen on DAB digital radio. A special launch event will take place between 10:00 and 14:00 where participants will learn all about DAB digital radio, have the opportunity to experience the functionality and design of the latest digital radio receivers, and of course listen to DAB digital radio live on-air. This annual event receives a lot of attention and a high level of participation is anticipated for this year's event.

Czech Radio Pilsen has been broadcasting on DAB since 2011 and on DAB+ since 2nd May 2013. Today over half the population of Czech Republic is covered by DAB digital radio. Listeners in Pilsen can tune in to DAB+ on channel LM / 10A, in South Bohemia on channel LD/ 5D, in the Karlovy Vary region on channel LJ and in Prague on channel LD.

There are now over 30 radio stations broadcast on DAB in Czech Republic, including all of Czech Radio's programmes. DAB is the de-facto digital broadcasting standard used in a number of countries throughout Europe, Asia and the Pacific, currently serving almost 2000 broadcasting stations across the world and with over 46 million DAB/DAB+ receivers have been sold globally.
